Some of the most popular games on Roblox are roleplaying games, which allow players to create their own character and explore a world with other characters created by other players. These games are incredibly fun and addicting, especially if you want an alternate form of social media that is not just photo posting based.

I also remember back when Minecraft was first released, how difficult it was to find anyone who was willing to play with you or help you if your work didn't work out; but I did find my lovely wonderful best friend through Roblox and we play together every single day. Even though there is no one on my friends list, I can still go into Roblox and join a game with other people. When I do that, my friend will always join me if she's in the same room. But even so, I never have any actual friends in-game because it becomes a very lonely experience as time progresses.

I really like Roblox because I get to make friends with other users on the Internet that are my age and play games with me. Another thing I like about it is that you can play different games and see which ones you like, so it's very fun to me. I also think that the game has helped me develop a lot of social skills because you can talk to your friends using voice chat or text chat. You can tell them how you're feeling, what's wrong, etc. It's a game where there are a lot of different people from all around the world and they all have their own story. Another reason why I love the game is that you can really make new friends and you can play with them offline.

The community is somewhat mature. As far as social media goes, I do not personally think that roblox holds much of a candle in terms of maturity when compared to the likes of Twitter or Facebook - but it certainly does not have the childish undertone that you would find on other sites such as Instagram or snapchat either. It has a decent kid-friendly community that is mostly neutral.
