Looking back at my own experience with Minecraft, it's so easy to see why people were so obsessed with it. The game was all about survival. It was about building a new life out of nothing. Things that would make you successful weren't free; they required you to work hard for them. But they were worth the wait, because it would mean you'd gather more items over time, and then you could make your house bigger or better fortified. The game was about connecting with your friends, and making sure that they were safe and able to live their own lives in the Minecraft world as well.

The most recent ones were their "Full Studios" which had many features and tools that allowed players to go into the game engine and change things remotely. However, many users claimed that this was a privacy issue due to the fact Roblox can track all changes, such as the movement of people through the game or make copies of other people's games.

Floating Balls! I have noticed that when you are at a group world and getting on people's chat heads they should be able to fly around like on normal. We need this because there are so many times where such a little bug would make these people mad if they were floating anywhere near them because they would not know what to say. Even though there are thousands of people in the group there should be more room for them to float. I think that there should be more than one chat head. I have seen people report this bug but it has not been fixed and I really want to see it fixed.
